ABOUT ME

Hello and welcome! My name is Md Rehan, and I am a student at the Institute Of Engineering And Management (IEM) and a computer enthusiast.

I am from Kolkata and attended St. Augustine Day School for my education.

I am passionate about coding and developing applications in a variety of languages and technologies. I enjoy being a part of a team project and want to contribute as much as I can to make it better. Aside from that, I am a student who appreciates math and problem solving.

Outside of my academics and work life, I enjoy playing cricket and watching sports to unwind.

You can contact me at mdrehan4650@gmail.com.

VOLUNTEER PROJECTS

Pixellytic

Pixellytic addresses a common challenge by offering a solution to streamline and automate the often tedious task of sorting through disorderly folders, containing a mix of images and other files. Its capabilities prove particularly beneficial for efficiently managing and organizing image files.

Graphify

Graphify is a simple tool 🛠️ for visualizing 💡 and analyzing information 📊 for applications such as Machine Learning and Deep Learning.

It is critical to understand the link between every attribute and another attribute or target when developing a model to predict or categorize anything given a number of features contained in a dataset. With a single click, you can plot all of the graphs between each feature.
